HONGKONG, DECEMBER 18TH, 1888.

A FEW months ago we drew attention to the delay in the commencement of the work of making the new harbour at Manila, although a large sum of money had been raised for that purpose by the imposition of special dues upon shipping. That our remarks were well justified may be gathered from the fact that one of the first acts of the newly formed Chamber of Commerce in the | the house of this woman in the meantime. The Harbour Com. mission has been in existence the whole time, and has, apparently, had power to execute minor works for the improvement of the existing accommodation, but the Chamber of Commerce seem to think it has not done so much in this direction as it ought to have done. Now, however, it would appear that all preliminary difficulties have been ovorcome and that the Commisgion is at liberty to enter on the serious work of constructing the new harbour and the important but smaller one of improving the inner harbour. PRESENTATION TO CAPTAIN GOGGIN.

A presentation was recently made to Capt Goggin, of the river steamer Kaung Chow, by the residents of the Foreign Concession at Canton in recognition of the prompt measures he took for procuring assistance from Hongkong at the time of the late aftack by a Chinese mob on Shameen. It was felt by the residents that Capt Goggin merited some token of their appreciation of his conduct, and a subscription was started, by which sufficient was raised to purchase a very handsome silver tea service. This was presented at Canton's few days since, accompanied by a testimonal as follows :-

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT. HAIPHONG, 13th December.

I mentioned in my last that all the steamers were up at Hanoi. The Tonquin arrived here this morning from the capital bringing intelligence that the expedition for Sontay has at length been put in motion. The force, which left Hanol yesterday, consisted of about 6,000 men, besides the gunboats. There was quite a flotilla going up the river, not less than seventeen ateamers and launches with jun's in tow. The troops, artillery, &o... were lauded about six or seven miles below Soutay, without a shot being fired, and they were, according to latest

The Lancet contains an exhaustive article or the "Therapoutical Drinking of Hot Water; Its Orgin and Its Use." The article is written by Dr. Ephraia. Cutter, an eminent physician of No - York City, and contains some statements and angrestions which, to say the least, are certainly worthy of attention. Dr. Cutter says that the first use made of hot water as a medicine or "health regulator," was made by Dr. James H. Saliabury of New York, who by a series of experiments on men and various animals, demonstrated its efficacy. In his article Dr. Cutter gives directions for proper use of hot water. In the first place, it must be hot, i.e., not less than 110 o nor more than 150 o Fahrenheit. This excites proper action of the disgostive organs. Cold water depresses and lukewarm water causes vomiting. For diarrhoss the hotter the water the better. For hemorrhages it should be at blood heat. The quantity of hot water drunk varies from one-half pint to a pint and one-half, according to the condition of the patient and the disease treated. The hot water should be taken one or two hours before each med, and half an hour before retiring. This gives the water time to operate before food enters the stomach or sleep comes. The water should be sipped slowly, and the swallowing of half a pint should take half an hour It takes six months to wash out the liver and intestines thoroughly. If the hot water seems "flat," flavourings, such as lemon sage, or ginger, may be added. The offects: drinking are noticed in the improved feelings of the patient. The urine becomes clear as crystal, and perspiration is free. The digestion improves, thirst disappears, and there is no longer a graving for liquor. Taken as a whole, from Dr. Cutter's estimate, the het water treatment is the most complete remedy yet discovered

We have most of us arrived by this time at a knowledge of the elementary principle incul-. cated about a century age by Adam Smith, that the value of our worldly possessions is not to be estimated by the amount of money we carry about with us, or can command at short notice. Still it is interesting, nevertheless, to know what port of amount of current coins is available by us and our neighbours for the common requirements of daily life. An industrious author has lately published in Paris a book which goes minutely into an enquiry upon this subject; and he has enabled himself, after much toil, to give the result not only as regards his own country, of coined money now in circulation at 38,000 millions of france, or about exactly 1,500 millions sterling, of which nearly one balf is in gold, rather more than two-fifths in silver, and the rest in other sorts of metal. Of all the nations mentioned, France is the one which has by far the most of this coin in circulation. This is true not only as regards the one metal The expected great Irish immigration in but both; for France heads the list in the
